

Library launches online reservation system

August 1, 2019

It's getting easier than ever to use the Lewisville Public Library! On Monday, August 19, the Library will launch an online reservation system allowing library card holders to register for classes and events, reserve a study room or meeting room, and reserve equipment in The Hive makerspace and Digital Media Lab.

A valid Lewisville library card in good standing and a library PIN are required to reserve a room or equipment. Guidelines on use and limits on reservations vary, so patrons will want to be sure to carefully review the room and equipment guidelines. The revised guidelines will be posted on the Library's website on August 19.

Also beginning August 19, all six study rooms on the 2nd floor of the Library will be managed by reservation. By managing all the study rooms by reservation, we can help meet the high demand for the rooms and make them more accessible to everyone. The checkout period will also increase to one 3-hour period per day per card holder.

For more details on the Online Reservation system or the study room changes, please visit or call the Library.
